The members of the Carbondale Historical Society and Museum are capable of producing and presenting a wide variety of educational and historical programs and services, of the highest artistic quality. Six of the significant accomplishments of the membership are chronicled in the press clippings that are given in Enclosure 10, Sections A-F.

Among the members of the Carbondale Historical Society and Museum are high school and college teachers, housewives, commercial bankers, investment bankers, attorneys, students, carpenters, members of the clergy, newspaper editors, photographers and businessmen. The Board of Trustees of the organization is made up of the leading professional and business men and women in Carbondale, namely: David Adams, Dr. Thomas H. Coleman, Kenneth H. Colville, Jr., Rosemary Heth, Donald A. Hoyle, Jr., William G. Kaufman, Anne M. Muldoon, Walter W. O'Hara, Joseph J. Pascoe, Kathryn Wood Shifler, Robert F. Vandenberg, William Wallis.

The president of the Carbondale Historical Society and Museum is S. Robert Powell, whose resume is given in Section A of this enclosure. Powell's diverse professional experiences (teacher, editor, investment banker, authority on local history), coupled with his devotion to the city of Carbondale, make him an ideal president for the organization. Among his most outstanding qualities is his extraordinary ability to get things done.

The second vice president of the Carbondale Historical Society and Museum is David J. Baum. Like Powell, Baum is a former officer of the Committee to Restore Carbondale City Hall, Inc. Baum served as editor of THE CARBONDALE NEWS, 1981-1982, and is presently serving on the editorial staff of THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE. Baum's capabilities and accomplishments on behalf of the Committee to Restore Carbondale City Hall, Inc. were publicly recognized by the Committee at a testimonial dinner, sponsored by the Committee, on July 15, 1982 (see newspaper clipping in Section B of this enclosure).
